2 Problem Statement:

Towards the Examination period, that is when most Makerere University Students remember to check on their financial statements from their different colleges to check whether they paid the right amount of money for tuition fee. However to most of their dismay, they realize that their accounts are showing that they haven't paid even when they paid meaning that their money does not reflect on the Makerere University account. This can cause a lot of disturbance as the student has to find a way of making sure that their money can reflect on the Makerere account. This can be done by either the banks that used sending notification to the Information Technology department of the University to do the needful after proving that payment was made in the bank. This has affected very many students that at times they almost miss out on their examinations even when payments have been made.

3 General Objectives

To determine how tuition payments made by students can be seen in time.

To enable students who have made payment get their Examination permits at the time when the university issues them.

Reduce on the time wasted between getting proof from the bank and submitting the proof to the University system Administrators.

4 Specific Objectives

To enable students to keep track of their payment through notification by messages or emails notifications by the bank

To increase mobility through real time notification by the university to the student once they make a payment.

To develop a system that can keep track of the Makerere University student tuition payment.
